Dedication

TO MR. COLBY:

When we look back on our years in High School, our more serious thoughts of study are invariably mingled with thoughts of fun and laughter. You have helped bring fun and study together, yet neither has ever overstepped its boundary lines. Your keen sense of humor, together with your excellent teaching, has always "put the point across." You have accomplished the almost impossible — you have made math and physics a pleasure.

In an effort to say, "Thank you," we dedicate the 1946 ECHO to you.

We Present with Pride

Our School of the Year

Come along with us, and we'll introduce the "School of the Year" to you. Yes, Winthrop High School, our choice for "School of the Year." See on the following pages, the persons, the events, and the activities that constitute a typical high school — a school whose year is crammed with such exhilarating activities as socials, plays, breath-taking sports, classes, and just plain fun! As you look over our scrap book of '45-'46, you'll see why The Echo proudly presents Winthrop High School as "School of the Year."

Faculty

What Makes W. H. S. Tick

Miss Addie I. Willard

Superintendent of Schools

Our main spring

Mr. Orrin C. Davis

Principal

He keeps things running smoothly

Mr. Ralph L. Duplin

Sub-Master

He keeps a "time check"
on our coming and going

We Appreciate . . .

Mr. Leslie L. Dunham

Supervisor of Mathematics

For all that he has done for us during the past war years. We will never forget his faithfulness and interest in carrying on as Acting Principal during those trying times.

Mr. Walter H. Donahue

Head of Bookkeeping Department

For his "stick-to-it" attitude in getting things done quickly and well, in his position as Acting Sub-Master during the absence of Mr. Duplin.

Invaluable Members of our Faculty

Jessie M. Porter

Guidance Director

In helping us choose our futures wisely and well, Miss Porter is indispensable. As an "all-round friend," she is tops!

Her secretary, Alice Gustavson, efficiently helps out.

Louise E. Mills

Employment Secretary and Head of the Stenographic Department

If you are looking for work, Miss Mills is there to help you in every way possible. "Willing and able" fits her well.

Edith Bargar

Secretary to the Principal

What would the office be without her? She is always on hand with a smile and a pleasant word.

Classroom Scenes

"The accent on the last syllable." — Miss Brown corrects a student's pronunciation.

Is it French or Spanish Miss Beck is hearing?

"Eyes off the keyboard," advises Miss Johnson.

All eyes riveted on — Is Van Johnson there, Miss Cady?

"That's a joke, son," according to Mr. Dalrymple.

Learning is fun in Mr. Colby's math classes.

"Button, button, who's got the button?"
— Find Mr. McClean.

One big happy family, as Messrs. Sheehan and Johnson point out mistakes.

JUNIOR "BESTS"

On a typical Winthrop High School day,
The Juniors Class had their say.
The ballots were counted and counted once more,
And here's the result, the final score.

Best Looking

It's plain to see for king and queen
Why the Juniors picked Bud Johnson and Carol Greene.

Best Dressed

Who did you vote for as the best dressed?
Was it Jo Massa or Paul Rouillard who led the rest?

Best Dancer

Your votes were tied for the dancing girl
And Frances Caggiano and Jean Whalen are still in a whirl;
But Walter Mills can too be proud,
For he was chosen from the masculine crowd.

Best Sense of Humor

For the best senses of humor of the Junior mass,
Norma Hagman and Roy McCarey led their class.

Best Student

Of course the Juniors have their "brain-chillin,'" too;
Anything but "A's" for Anita Kerimel and
Donald Smith would never do.

Best Athlete

Rah! Rah! Give a cheer!
It's Virginia Neal and Bob Kelly, our athletes of the year.

Most Pleasing Personalities

Charlotte Evans and Paul Rouillard hold the keys,
Since they have well developed personalalities.

Most Musical

Beat me daddy, eight to the bar,
Robert Scheinfein and Patty Monroe musically are going far.

Under the capable leadership of Editor-in-Chief Janet Pero, assisted by associate editors Carol Downie, Joyce Marden, Jack Lubowitz, and William O'Brien, the Echo Board published the bi-weekly newspaper and the class year book.

In addition to the regular staff reporters, Richard Verney and Peter Fisher were appointed business managers; Alan Pheasant and Sherman Reed were designated the sports writers; and Nanci Rosen, the art editor.

This year, besides the regular sports news, editorials, and "gossip" columns, many energetic staff members submitted interesting and informative articles on the lunch-room, the laboratory, the library, and many other places of special interest around the school.

The Echo Staff wishes to thank the faculty advisor, Miss Florence Wilder, for her constant assistance, and the entire student body for their support which has been sincerely appreciated.

Invaluable aid in the preparation of the material for the printer was given by the official Echo typists: Ruth Crafts, Elaine Finkelstein, Arlene Schwartz, and Alba Secatore. Many other members of Miss Rachel Johnson's typing class assisted in typing year book material, for which help the Echo Staff is grateful.

FLASH!

The News Club meets once a week under the capable direction of Miss Edna Chalfant to discuss and to write the school news of the week for the Winthrop newspapers, "The Sun" and "The Transcript." These meetings are held informally on either Wednesday or Thursday of the week. Since the club consists of only ten members and an advisor, there are no officials. During the lunch periods allotted to the Club, these members may roam about the school, securing information necessary for the article which the individual member may be planning to write. All work done by the Club is carefully checked by both Miss Chalfant and Mr. Davis before it may leave the school to become a part of the town's weekly newspapers.

Aside from the pleasure of seeing one's words in print, the News Club members receive no material compensation for their work. However, the service which the Club renders to the school and to the community should not be underestimated. Through these items of school news, the community as a whole gains a better knowledge and understanding of its high school pupils.

We, the high school students of 1946, wish to thank the News Club and its director, Miss Chalfant, for the task which they have voluntarily undertaken and so admirably accomplished.

NEWS CLUB

SOPHOMORE "BESTS"

Now let '48 present in the assembled classes
Its most nearly perfect lads and lasses.
In every case you will agree
That these are tops, the best you see.

Marion Surette, chosen prettiest girl,
Keeps all the sophomore boys in a whirl
While Dean Carstensen, the handsomest boy,
Has all the girls simply jumping for joy.

Then petite Jean Brady, a charming miss,
In matters of fashion heads the list
And Paul Millerick, the man of the hour,
When selecting his wardrobe proved his power.

Mary Lambert is certainly hep
When it comes to the latest jitterbug step.
Martin Lichtenstein's fancy prancing
Has won him fame as the best in dancing.

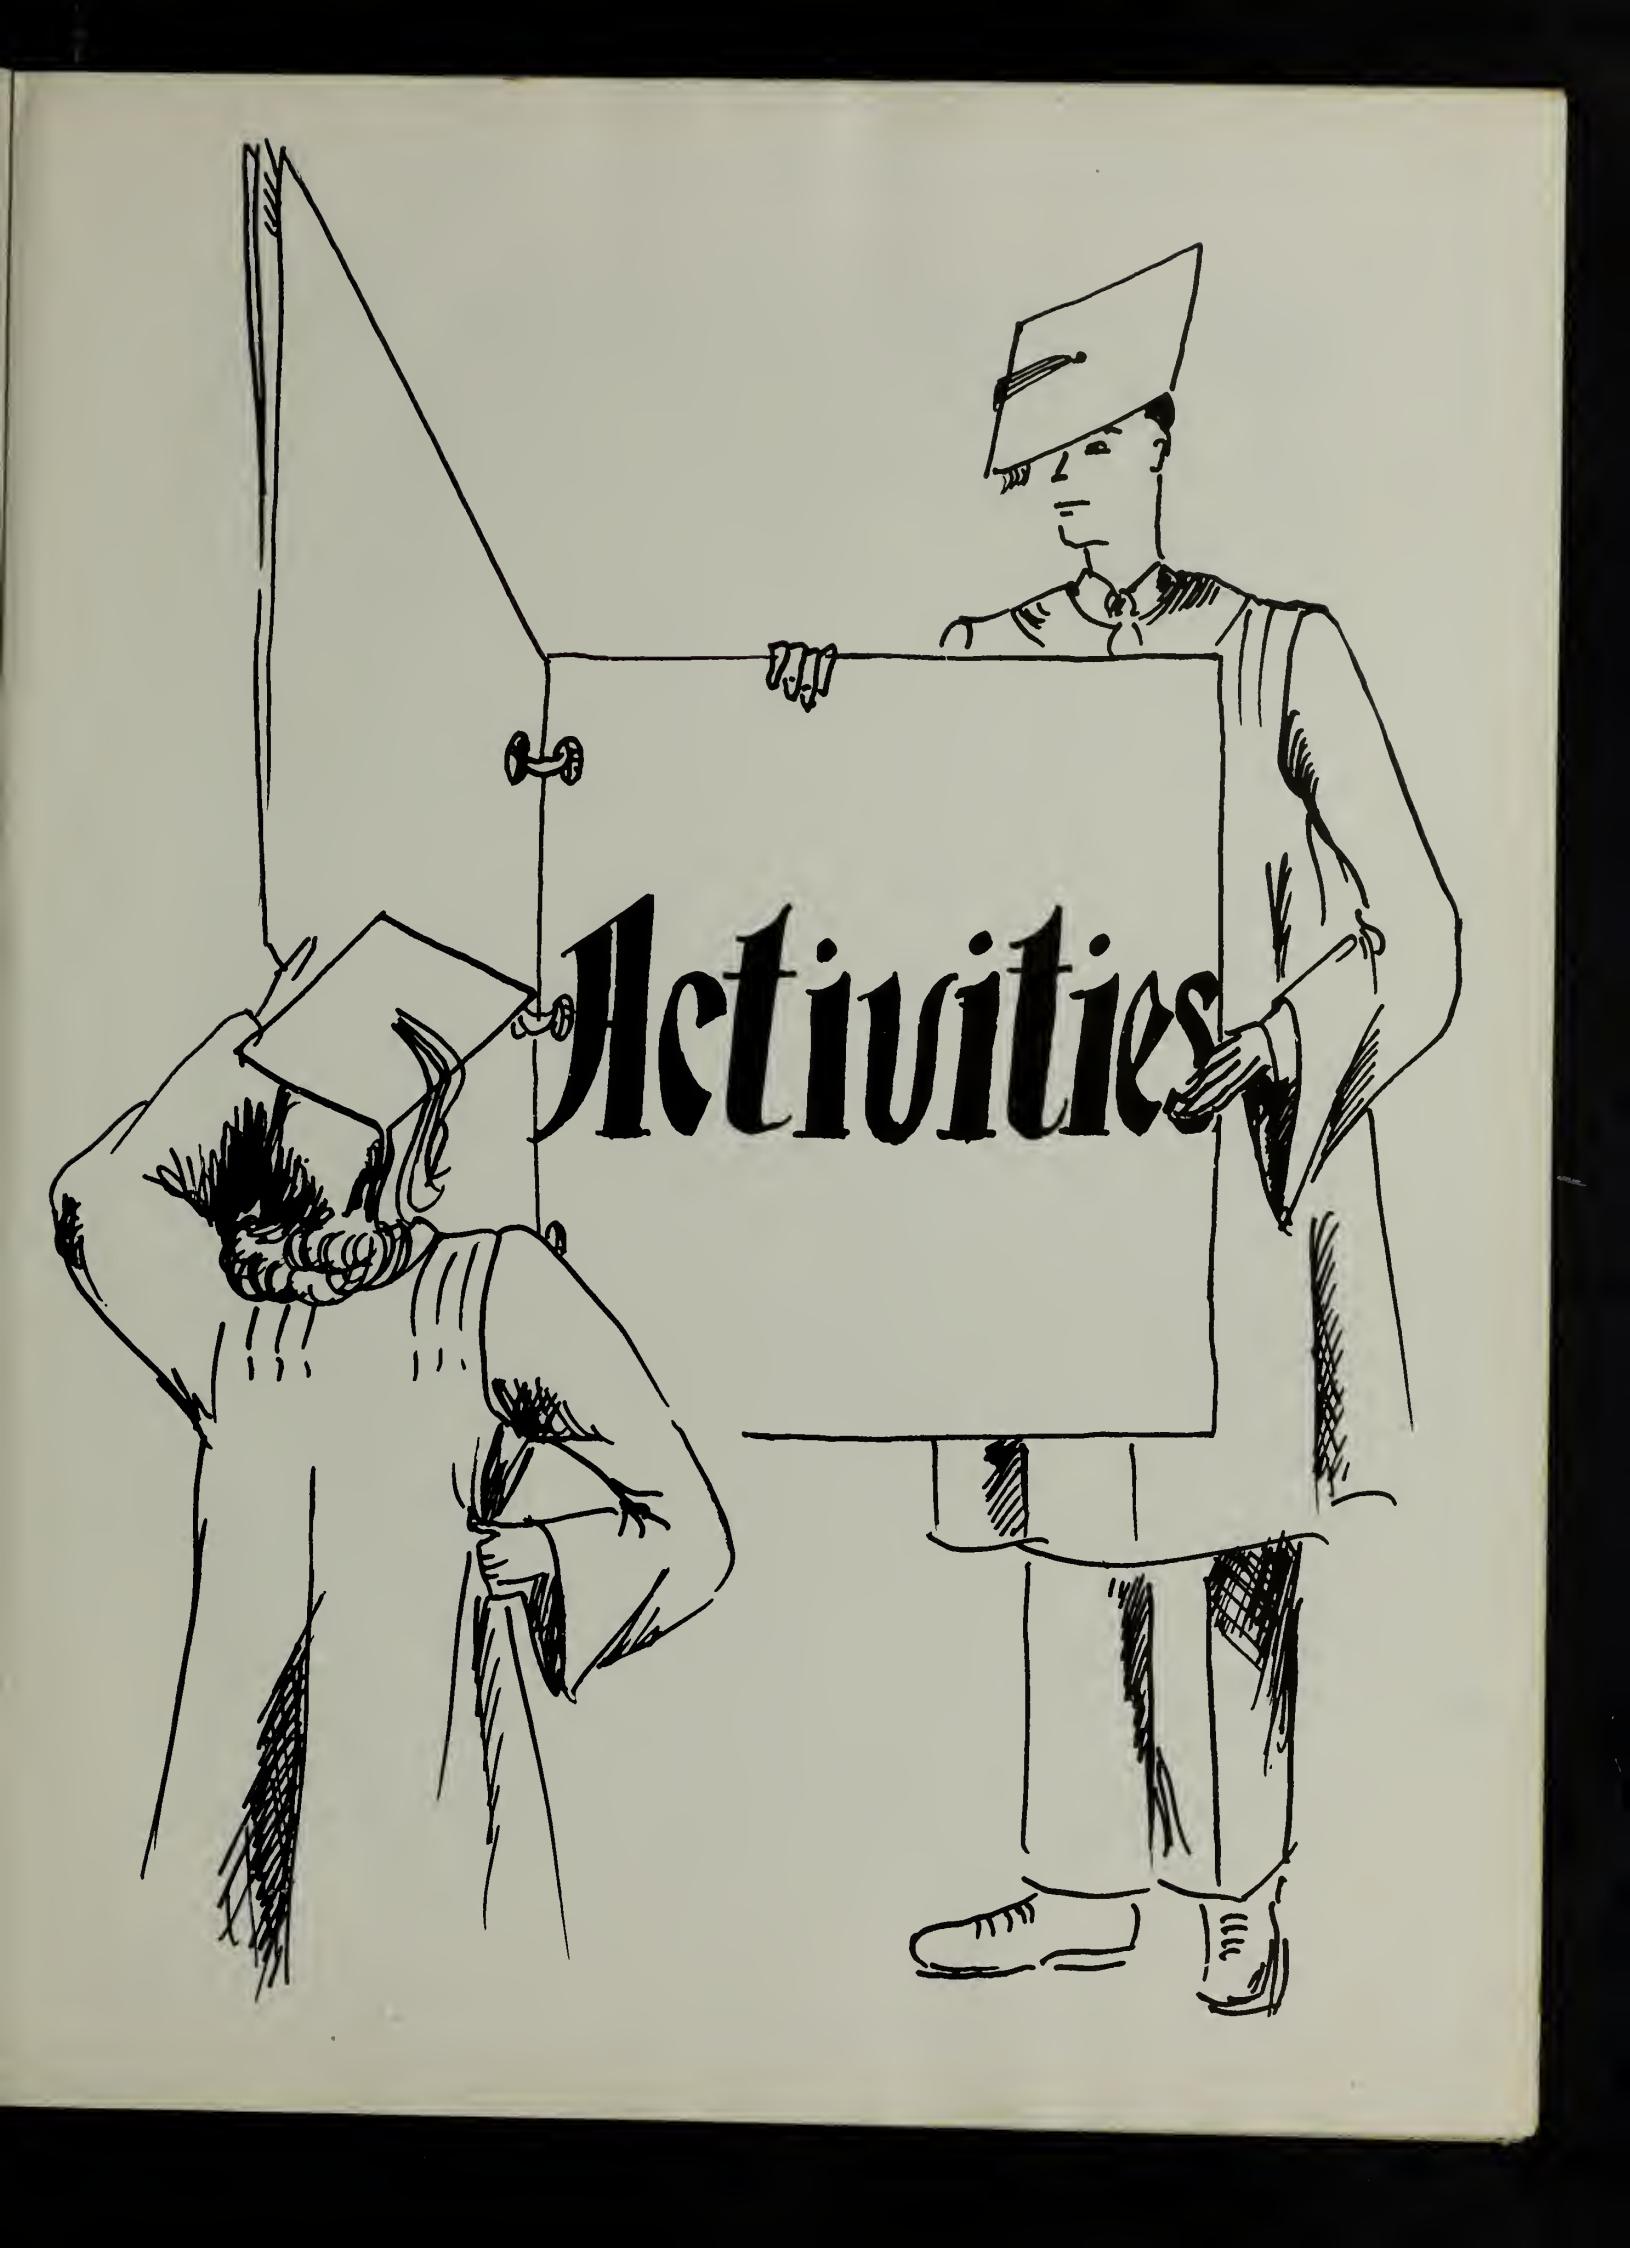

Mary Ann Foote, girls' athletic queen,
Has plenty of pep, you know what we mean.
Frank Covino, it can't be denied,
Is best in sports in every one's eyes.

A sense of humor helps a lot,
That's just what Joan Kincaid has got.
Donald Henderson, it's easy to see,
Keeps his friends in a state of glee.

Barbara Leonard, that talented lass,
Goes to the head of the musical class.
Our musical lad is Bernard Levine,
Be it Mozart or Mercer, he's "on the beam."

Here are the "personality kids,"
Ann Connell and Paul Millerick won the bids.
Their personalities are the best,
They've weathered every kind of test.

Last, but not least, our best students are seen,
Their names are John Mattson and Raynor Bornstein.
In every subject they are tops
When they leave school, they'll never be flops.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Again this year the French Club, popularly known as "Le Cercle Francais" has enjoyed a very successful year. Although a few meetings had to be omitted because of conflicting school activities, those meetings which were held were most entertaining and educational.

All of the programs were planned with the advice and supervision of the club's director, Miss Crescentia Beck. Dorothy St. John as president presided at the meetings, while secretary Jean Whalen kept the minutes. Barbara Terrile served as treasurer.

The types of programs presented were varied and informative. There were several playlets taken from the French reading. By means of puzzles and games, geographical facts were illustrated. The main attractions of the year were the initiation of the new members, the Christmas play, and the Debussy program. At every meeting the members enjoyed singing lively folk songs. Because of the large number of talented musicians in the club, there was always at least one vocal or instrumental solo to please the students. Each meeting closed with the singing of the French national anthem, "La Marseillaise."

The large number of members and the faithfulness of their attendance at the meetings are in themselves testimony to the popularity of "Le Cercle Francais."

When In Rome . . .

The year 1945-46 produced an active Latin Club under the supervision of Miss Marie Merrill. At the first meeting October 19, 1945 the officers chosen were: Anita Kerimel, President; Barbara Terrile, Vice-President; Ann Connell, Secretary; Raynor Bornstein, Treasurer; and Dorothy Donahue, Librarian. Also selected were Property Chairmen Wendell Hodgkins and Betty Miller; Executive Committeemen Arlene Arons, Frances Reith, and Elaine Stainforth.

The opening ceremony of the Vestal Virgins provided each meeting with a truly Roman atmosphere. Those appointed Vestals, who symbolize the worshippers of the ancient Goddess Vesta, were: Chief Vestal Norma Halliday, Charlotte Evans, Evelyn Card, Joan Guidi, Ellen Lawler, Barbara Neiterman, and Marilyn Wetstone.

The aim of the Latin Club is to present programs which will, while entertaining the students, further their understanding of Latin and Roman customs. The club contributed generously to our Infantile Paralysis Drive.

One outstanding program of the club took place February 28, 1946 when the members went stargazing with the help of Miss Merrill, who named many stars and constellations. The first week in May a Latin Week was held, its purpose to spread Latin throughout the school. Its theme was "Latin is all around us."

The Latin Club members subscribed to the national magazine "Auxilium Latinum," which was placed in the library for the use of all students. They also took part in national competitive examinations sponsored by the publishers of "Auxilium Latinum," giving non-members who wished it the opportunity to compete.

THE DRAMATICS CLUB

This past year saw the introduction at W. H. S. of a regular curriculum course in Dramatics. Because it was not on the course of study as an elective last spring, only a few programs could be arranged to include it, but for the twenty or more who have taken the course, it has been an enjoyable and profitable experience. Mrs. Agnes Doyle, the dramatics teacher, says that the purpose of this class is not to produce great actors or actresses but to give the students poise.

The students in the class have not been the only ones to enjoy the work of the club, as the entire student body has been fortunate enough to witness several plays in the assembly periods. The group has presented ten short plays this year, and these have been of many types, including dramas, comedies, fantasies, and religious plays. Each member of the class has taken part in at least two productions; the properties and lighting have been handled by the students; and one of the plays was directed by Ann Levine, a member of the class.

Variety has been added to the assembly presentations by musical solos by some of the talented members of the class.

All in all, the Dramatics Class of W. H. S., which we call "The Workshop," has made an admirable start under the very able direction of Mrs. Doyle, and we expect great things from them next year when the course will be an elective open to many more students.

On Stage, Everybody

A psychological murder mystery, a popular type of drama, was adopted by the Senior Class of Winthrop High School in its presentation of "A Murder Has Been Arranged," a three-act play by Emlyn Williams, given in Odd Fellows Hall on December 14 and 15, 1945.

Fate dealt a cruel blow to the Senior Play cast when, on the eve before opening night, Anna Marshall (Lady Jasper) was injured in an automobile accident. Miss Barbara MacGregor, alumna of W. H. S., stepped in on a few hours notice and filled the role admirably.

Thanks and praise of the highest order go to Mrs. Agnes Doyle, without whose skillful coaching the cast could never have achieved its goal. The able back-stage crew, Alan Pheasant and Arthur Johannesen, did much to make the production run smoothly.

Hail! Hail! The Gang's All Here

Ensemble at Conclusion of Part I

Yes, the gang was all here on April fourth and fifth at a "Gay Nineties Revue" directed by Mrs. Agnes M. Doyle and Mr. James W. Anderson.

The girls' chorus, consisting of Gerry Adams, Peggy Allen, Audrey Bass, Ann Connell, Dorothy Donahue, Dorothy Doyle, June Evans, Betty King, Cynthia Kotker, Jacqueline Law, Joan Lockyer, Josephine Massa, Geraldine Maynard, Irene McKinley, Patty Monroe, Nancy Peluso, Agatha Spano, Ann Sullivan, Marion Surette, Anthea Vasel, Demetria Vasel, and Marilyn Wetstone, led off Part I, a vaudeville show, with familiar old tunes.

Then followed three skits: "Bluebeard," a travesty with Anita Kerimel, Betty Colson, Elaine Stainforth, John Mullen, Paul Bucknam, and Walter Hewins; "Faint Heart Ne'er Won a Fair Lady" with Ann Levine, Joyce Margil, and Ray Bentley; and "Aunt Betsy," a Pantomime with Betty Miller, Carol Thompson, William Lappen, and Curtis Lappen, and Marie Ambrose as reader. Three monologues: "Casey At the Bat" — Betty Reith; "Debby's Date" — Carol Thompson; and "Since Birdie Commenced Her Delsarte" — Dorothy Booth; and a dialogue, "Hezzy Jones, Station Agent" with Howard McGrath and Ann Sullivan, concluded Part I.

The cast of Part II — a minstrel show — was headed by William O'Brien, interlocutor, and lively end-men Peter Fisher, Sherry Rosen, Robert Boushell, Myron Atlas, Norman Purdy, and Milton Neal. The rest of the program included a tap solo by Inez Rozelle, songs by Frances Caggiano, a dialogue with Jay MacDonald and Donald Henderson, a pantomime with Myron Atlas and Milton Neal, and a medley of songs by Claire Permatteo, Barbara Donahue, Mary Fay, and Elizabeth Belli.

THE FOOTBALL SEASON

This year Winthrop initiated the season by playing its first night game against Lynn Classical. Then "Eddie" Ruskin, right tackle, was stricken with infantile paralysis, and the boys were quarantined for two weeks. This necessitated the canceling of two games, those with Danvers and Marblehead.

Undaunted by the bad luck which seemed to follow them, the squad worked hard with Coach Gordon Connor to attain the skill necessary to victory. Throughout the season, there were always thoughts of Eddie's fight for recovery to make the squad work harder.

Finally victory came to Winthrop over Swampscott and Woburn. From then on the team really began to play football.

In the classic struggle with Revere, Winthrop rooters found out that they really had a team. Although favored 5-1, Revere quickly discovered that this game was no walkaway, as Winthrop took the lead and fought through to victory 20-12.

During the season the field house at Miller Field was finished and the squad had the benefit of hot showers right after practice. The field itself was also greatly improved.

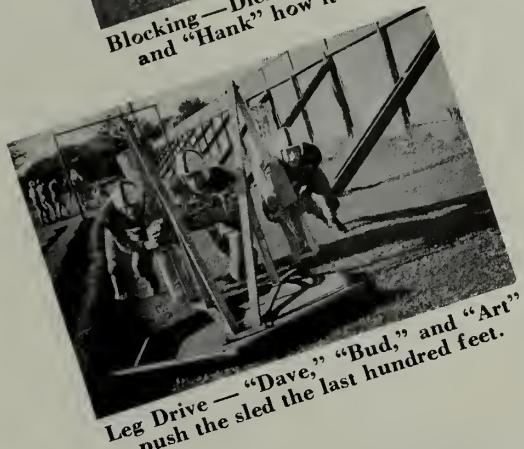

Top honors go to "Bomber" Neal, who scored a total of 45 points. Dave Rowe bulled through for 20 points, while Jack Talcott finished with 7 points, "Hank" Wilson, 6 points, and Frank Covino, 6 points. The squad came through with three wins and five losses, and scored in every game.

PRACTICE

Blocking — Dick shows "Jimbo," "Kel" and "Hank" how it should be done.

Leg Drive — "Dave," "Bud," and "Art" push the sled the last hundred feet.

Tackling — "Dave" shows perfect form as he hits the much used dummy.

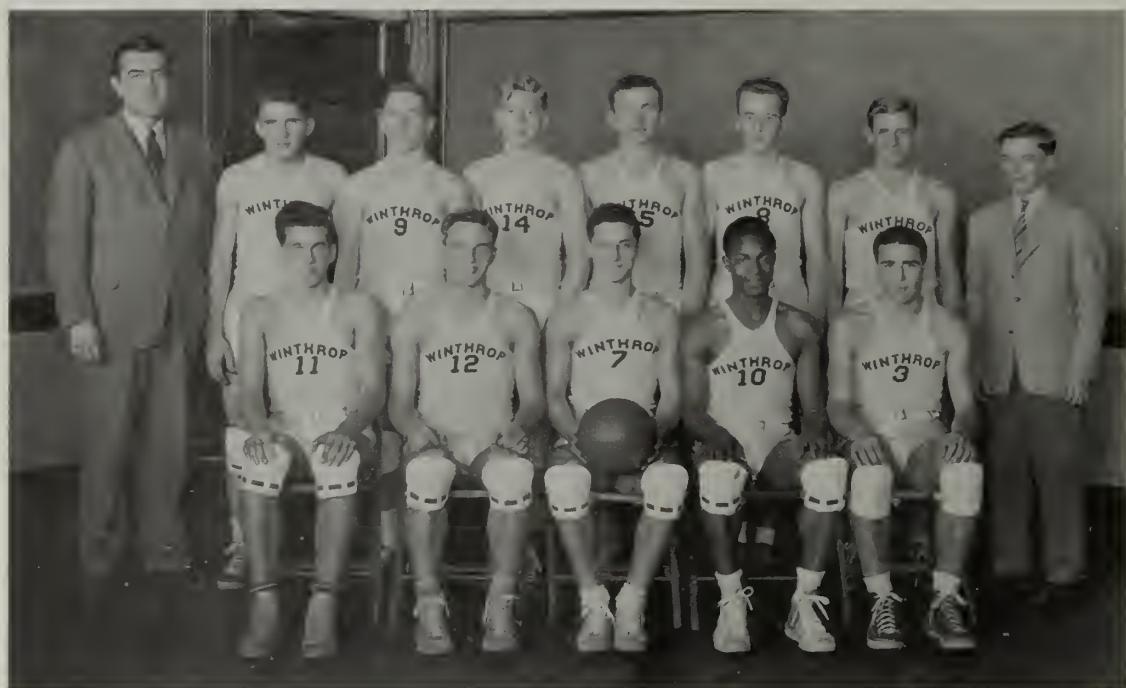

Fight — "Kel" has plenty of it as he tears into "Hank," who doesn't look too worried.

MAKES PERFECT

"Bomber" breaks into the clear for a long runback as a lineman clears the way with a perfect block.

Winthrop High had another successful basketball season this year, winning the Northeastern Conference championship for the second consecutive year and being chosen for participation in the Eastern Massachusetts Principals' Association Tournament.

We had three starting line-up veterans from last year's team, Myron Atlas, "Buddy" Johnson, and Jack Talcott. In addition, there were Milton Neal, Dave Rowe, Bob Kelly, and Walter Hewins from previous varsity squads. Three more Juniors, Norman Hubley, Richard Evans and Ted Fabyan, and three Sophomores, Frank Covino, Paul Millerick, and Marshall Haraden, completed the squad.

The team had four narrow losses, of which it can be said they deserved to have won each game. The total number of points by which their opponents beat them in these four games was only nine.

After suffering two rather startling league defeats, and being tied with Danvers in a race for the league title, Winthrop performed beautifully in the play-off game, beating Danvers 38-26.

The individual high scoring record was as follows: Atlas, 214 points; Neal, 152 points; Talcott, 73 points.

Our Topsy-Turvy Boys

Since its establishment a year ago, Winthrop High's Tumbling Team has come a long way. From a membership of ten, it has doubled its number and become a vital part of the sports program of the high school. Under the competent coaching of Mr. Frank E. Reed, it increased its skill, developed intricate routines, and gave a number of spectacular performances at our football games.

After its enforced rest during the basketball season, the team resumed practice, which was interrupted once more by the untimely death of Mr. Reed. Led on by the inspirational character of this fine man, the group decided to continue practising and to form a Memorial Team. To this end, the team successfully sought the aid of Mr. Carl Johnson as faculty advisor. The team hopes to leave each year a well trained under-classmen's group who will perpetuate this living memorial to Mr. Reed.

School of the Year Morale Builders

What would football and basketball be without their cheerleaders? These nine peppy girls have been invaluable in building up school spirit and the whole-hearted support of our teams.

CHEERLEADERS

LEAGUE RIVALRIES

Each year interclass basketball games, staged under the direction of Mr. Wallace B. McClean, are the chief attraction for talented boys who do not participate on the regular school team.

The rules that Mr. McClean made in addition to the conventional rules about equipment, were very simple. Each team elected its own captain, whose duty it was to arrange the line-up and make substitutions during each game. Because of the obvious advantage that the seniors had over the juniors and sophomores, the former gave five and ten points respectively to each of the other two classes. Also the sophomores had a five point margin over the juniors.

As the season progressed, it was found that the games were "hotbeds" of competition, as shown by the enthusiasm of the players on the top teams. The two highest teams in the Ivy League were Tufts (seniors) and Holy Cross (juniors); while Dartmouth (seniors) and Cornell (juniors) emerged the top two in the Independent League.

In the ensuing "Round Robin Tournament," Tufts and Cornell became the only survivors of the grueling rivalry, and in the play-off, Tufts defeated Cornell by a score of 29 to 23.

Tufts players were: Haskell Levin, Peter Fisher, Jack Weiner, Bernard Hirsch, George Costonis, Charles Thiras, Arthur Johannesen, and Raymond Bentley.

Girls' Sports . . .

BASKETBALL TEAM

Front Row — A. Hutchinson, J. Evans, M. Foote.
Rear — J. Globe, E. Williams, Miss Kiernan, G. Maynard, V. Neal.

The girls' sports program started off in the fall with traditional field hockey. Coached by Miss Ellen Kiernan, the new girls learned the fundamentals of hockey and the older girls improved their skill. Although there was no formal inter-scholastic schedule, games between the classes provided plenty of competition. At the end of the season June Evans was awarded the cup for being "the senior who did the most for field hockey."

When the weather forced the girls inside, they passed the winter season playing basketball, each Wednesday afternoon after school practicing and playing under the direction of Miss Kiernan. The girls climaxed the season with a thrilling victory over a team made up of faculty members. The score was seven to six!

“human interest” WORK*

For girls who are looking beyond graduation to a good-paying job that's full of "human interest," here's an opportunity worth investigating.

The Telephone Company has several openings for girls finishing high school. Recent high school graduates who've become telephone girls find the work interesting, associates friendly; surroundings pleasant.

Seniors should look into this opportunity. Training courses may be arranged so as not to interfere with studies or graduation, and can usually be given right in the home town. Sign up right away and receive pay while learning.

Mr. John Orrall, for whose generous giving of time and advice, in addition to the actual printing of our book, we are deeply grateful.

And all our advertisers and patrons whose interest in our school is shown in so helpful a form.
